INFORMATIONAL AND DISCLOSURE STATEMENT VIATICAL SETTLEMENT

SELLING YOUR LIFE INSURANCE POLICY

Today it is possible for you to sell your life insurance policy to someone else (a viatical settlement provider) for an immediate cash payment. This financial arrangement, known as a viatical settlement, is best suited for people who are living with an immediate life-threatening illness and facing tough financial choices, or in other situations where a viatical settlement provider will pay compensation or value less than the expected death benefit of the insurance policy or certificate.

It may not always be in your best interest to sell your life insurance policy. Before you take action, you want to be sure you understand:

- a. What future benefits you may lose.
- b. What other options may be available.

Selling your life insurance policy is a complex financial arrangement. This guide will help you make an informed decision.

We recommend that you:

1. Evaluate your needs
2. Check all your options
3. Understand how the process works
4. Know your rights
5. Check with your state insurance department

STEP 1 EVALUATE YOUR NEEDS

Before you sell your policy and give up valuable insurance protection, think about whether your need for life insurance has changed since you bought the policy. If it hasn't, selling your policy may not be the right choice. If you sell your policy now, your beneficiaries will not be paid a benefit at your death.

If you sell your policy now, remember premiums go up a lot as you grow older. You may not want to pay the higher cost to replace your coverage later.

STEP 2 CHECK ALL YOUR OPTIONS

You may be able to get the cash you need now without selling your policy. Persons with catastrophic or life-threatening illnesses or conditions may have alternatives to viatical settlements, including accelerated benefits offered by the issuer of the policy, loans secured by the policy and surrender of the policy for cash value.

POLICY CASH VALUES

Contact your current life insurance agent or company to see if you have any cash value in your policy. Ask if you can:

1. Borrow from the cash value and still keep the insurance in force.
2. Cancel the policy for its current cash value.
3. Use the cash value as collateral to get a loan from a financial institution.

Your insurance company must tell you about your options if you ask.

ACCELERATED DEATH BENEFITS

Find out if your policy has an “accelerated death benefit.” It may be your best option.

Many life insurance policies do have an accelerated death benefit. With that benefit, policyholders who are terminally ill, affected with certain diseases or permanently confined in a nursing home can access fifty per cent or more of a policy’s death benefit while still living. An accelerated death benefit could pay you a large part of your policy’s death benefit and you could keep your policy.

A very important feature of the accelerated benefit is that when the policyholder dies, the beneficiaries get the remaining death benefit. This means that eventually one hundred per cent of the policy benefits will be paid out either to the insured or the beneficiary.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Think about what it will mean if you do sell your policy. Check out the tax implications. Not all proceeds from a viatical settlement are tax-free. A viator may incur tax consequences from entering into a viatical settlement. Persons interested in entering into a viatical settlement should consult their tax advisor. Find out if creditors could claim any of the money you would get from a viatical settlement. The proceeds of a viatical settlement payable to the viator may not be exempt from the viator’s creditors, personal representatives, trustees in bankruptcy and receivers in state or federal court. Persons interested in entering into a viatical settlement should consult an attorney or financial advisor regarding these potential consequences. Find out if you will lose any public assistance benefits such as Medicaid or other government benefits if you accept a cash settlement for your life policy. A viatical settlement may affect a viator’s ability to receive supplemental social security income, public assistance and public medical services. Persons interested in entering into a viatical settlement should consult an attorney, financial advisor or social services agency regarding these potential consequences.

Entering into a viatical settlement contract may cause other rights or benefits, including conversion rights and waiver of premium benefits that may exist under the policy or certificate, to be forfeited. Assistance should be sought from a financial adviser.

Where a policy that is the subject of a viatical settlement contains a provision for double or additional indemnity for accidental death, or contains riders or other provisions insuring the lives of spouses, family members or anyone else other than the person with the catastrophic or life-threatening illness, the viatical settlement contract will affect those provisions or riders and may cause spouses, family members or others to lose the additional benefits afforded by those provisions or riders.

COMPARISON SHOP

To learn the market value of your policy, it is a good idea to contact three to five viatical settlement providers. Or you could use a viatical settlement broker who would contact several viatical settlement providers for you. Your financial advisor can help you decide whether to work with a viatical settlement provider or through a viatical settlement broker.

SUMMARY

Everyone's financial situation is different. A viatical settlement may or may not be the best approach for you. Check it out for yourself. We recommend that you ask an advisor who is qualified to review your finances to help you review your options.

STEP 3 HOW THE PROCESS WORKS

If you decide to sell your life insurance policy to a viatical settlement provider, you will enter into a viatical settlement agreement with the provider. You, the seller, agree to accept a cash payment for your policy. The amount will be less than the face amount the policy would pay upon your death. (For example, you might agree to accept a $75,000 cash payment for a $100,000 policy.)

The viatical settlement provider buying your policy:

1. Becomes the new owner of your policy.
2. Names the beneficiary
3. Collects the full death benefit when you die
4. Begins paying premiums on the policy, and
5. May sell your policy again.

There are four basic phases required to complete a viatical transaction.

PHASE 1 QUALIFYING TO SELL YOUR POLICY (UNDERWRITING)

The viatical settlement provider will need information about you before making an offer. Usually it will take some preliminary information about you before making an offer. Usually it will take some preliminary information from you over the phone and send you this paperwork to sign:

1. A medical release form so the viatical settlement provider can get and review your medical records.
2. An authorization form to contact your insurance company to confirm benefit, premium and ownership of your policy.

To avoid delays, it is important that you give complete and accurate information about your medical history. If you apply with more than one viatical settlement provider, each will contact your doctor for medical records and your insurance company for policy information.

PHASE 2 CALCULATING THE OFFER

The viatical settlement provider uses the information it gets in the underwriting phase to make an offer. To develop an offer, a viatical settlement provider takes into account various factors including:

1. Estimated life expectancy and medical condition of the insured. Generally the shorter the life expectancy of the insured, the more the viatical settlement provider will offer for the policy.
2. The amount of life insurance coverage.
3. Loans or advances, if any, previously taken against the policy.
4. Amount of premiums necessary to keep the life insurance policy in force.
5. The rating of the issuing insurance company
6. Prevailing interest rates
7. State laws, if any, that require a minimum payment.

PHASE 3 CLOSING THE AGREEMENT

If you accept the offer, a closing package is forwarded to you, the seller, for approval and signature. Closing documents typically include an offer letter, a viatical settlement contract, and the forms the insurance company needs to transfer ownership of the policy to the viatical settlement provider.

The closing documents are then returned to the viatical settlement provider for its signature.

The viatical settlement provider will put the cash payment owed to you in escrow, if required, and send the signed insurance forms to the insurance company to record the change.

PHASE 4 RECEIVING THE PAYMENT

Once the insurance company notifies the viatical settlement provider that the changes on the life insurance policy have been recorded, the payment is released to you, the seller, usually the next business day.

In many states, you may have the right to change your mind about the settlement after you receive the money, provided you return all the money. Typically the law allows 15 days to review your settlement arrangement. In some states the viatical settlement company has the option to deny rescission after 15 days from the date the proceeds are placed in escrow as provided by law.

STEP 4 KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

STATE LAWS

Many states have laws that provide important consumer protections. You will want to contact your state insurance department to see which of the following consumer protections your state requires. Determine if:

1. A viatical settlement broker or viatical settlement provider arranging viatical settlements must be licensed with your insurance department.

2. The viatical settlement provider buying your policy must keep your identity and medical history confidential unless you give written consent to tell others, unless it is necessary to effect the viatical settlement or pursuant to a subpoena from a legal authority. In some states, all medical, financial or personal information solicited or obtained by a viatical settlement company or broker about a viator, including the viator's identity or the identity of family members, a spouse or a significant other, is confidential and shall not be disclosed in any form to any person, unless disclosure is necessary to effect the viatical settlement between the viator and the viatical settlement company and the viator provides prior and knowing written consent to the disclosure. All persons to whom the confidential information is disclosed pursuant to the viator's consent shall maintain the confidentiality of such information, and not disclose it to any other person in any form, without prior and knowing written consent of the viator. The viator and insured are advised that the information may be provided to financing entities including individual and institutional purchasers which are unknown to the viator, without the viator's consent. In some states, the viator may designate any adult individual in regular contact with the viator as the contact for all inquiries about the viator's health status, and, if such designation is made, a viatical settlement company cannot make such an inquiry to the viator, unless the company is unable, after diligent effort, to contact the designee for more than thirty days. The viator may change this designation at any time, upon written notice to the viatical settlement company.
3. To protect your proceeds, the viatical settlement provider buying your policy must put your money into an escrow account with an independent party during the transfer process. Some states require a provision that upon receipt from the viator of documents to effect the transfer of the policy, the viatical settlement company may at its option either;
 - (A) make unconditional payment to the viator immediately, either in a lump sum or in installment payments, or
 - (B) pay the proceeds of the settlement to an escrow or trust account managed by a trustee or escrow agent in a national or state bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, where such proceeds shall remain until:
 - (i) the proceeds are disbursed to the viator upon acknowledgment of the transfer of the policy by the issuer of the policy, or the expiration of the rescission period without rescission by the viator, whichever occurs later;
 - (ii) the proceeds are transferred to purchase an annuity from an insurance company licensed by a state in the United States, or through an escrow or trust account which provides for installment refunds and which is established by a bank licensed by a state in the United States, or
 - (iii) the proceeds are returned to the viatical company upon notice of the viator's rescission within the rescission period.

Some states provide that if the proceeds are payable in installments, then all forms of contract, and/or informational material must specify that installments must be effected through an annuity purchased from an insurance company licensed by a state in the United States, or through an escrow or trust account which provides for installment refunds and which is established by a bank licensed by a state in the United States.

4. You have the right to change your mind about the settlement AFTER you receive the money, provided you return all the money. Some states provide that the rescission provision may require the viator to reimburse the viatical settlement company the amount of the viatical settlement, plus premiums or other contractual charges paid by the viatical settlement company to maintain the policy in force. If the viatical settlement contract provides interest on the viatical settlement amount while in the escrow account the rescission provision may require the viator to reimburse such interest in addition to the viatical settlement amount. The reimbursement may be required to be in the form a certified or bank cashiers check payable to the order of the viatical settlement company.

5. The new owners of your policy are limited in how often they may contact you about your health status.
6. Your right to know, upon request, the identity of any person who will receive a commission or other form of compensation from the viatical settlement company or broker with respect to the viatical settlement and the amount and terms of such compensation.
7. Some states provide that all forms of contract used to effect viatical settlements shall contain an acknowledgment page which a prospective viator must sign before a notary stating that the prospective viator acknowledges that he or she has a life-threatening illness, has received and read the written informational materials, has received and read all of the documents used to effect the viatical settlement, and is entering into the viatical settlement knowingly and voluntarily.

General Rules with respect to Connecticut include the following:

- (1) There are possible alternatives to viatical settlement contracts including any accelerated death benefits or policy loans offered under the viator's life insurance policy;
- (2) Some or all of the proceeds of the viatical settlement may be taxable under federal income tax, and assistance should be sought from a professional tax advisor;
- (3) Receipt of the viatical settlement proceeds may adversely affect the viator's eligibility for Medicaid or other government benefits or entitlements, and advice should be obtained from the appropriate governmental agencies or advisors;
- (4) The viatical settlement provider may assign or otherwise transfer its interests in the viaticated policy to a third party;
- (5) The viator has the right to rescind a viatical settlement contract for fifteen calendar days after the receipt of the viatical settlement proceeds by the viator, as provided in subsection C of Section 38a-465g Connecticut General Statutes. If the insured dies during the rescission period, the settlement contract shall be deemed to have been rescinded, subject to repayment of all viatical settlement proceeds and any premiums, loans and loan interest to the viatical settlement provider or viatical settlement purchaser;
- (6) Proceeds of the viatical settlement may be subject to the claims of general creditors;
- (7) Funds will be sent to the viator within two business days after the viatical settlement provider has received the insurer or group administrator's acknowledgement that ownership of the viatical policy or interest in the certificate has been transferred and the beneficiary has been designated pursuant to sections 38a-465 to 38a-465m, inclusive of Connecticut law; and sections 12 to 15, inclusive of the Connecticut law.
- (8) Entering into the viatical settlement contract may cause other rights or benefits, including conversion rights, and waiver of premium benefits that may exist under the policy or certificate, to be forfeited by the viator and that assistance should be sought from a financial advisor.
- (9) All medical, financial or personal information solicited or obtained by a viatical settlement provider or viatical settlement broker about an insured, including the insured's identity or the identity of family members, a spouse or a significant other may be disclosed as necessary to effect the viatical settlement between the viator and the viatical settlement provider. If you are asked to provide this information, you will be asked to consent to the disclosure. The information may be provided to someone who buys the policy or provides funds for the purchase. You may be asked to renew your permission to share information every two years;

(10) The insured may be contacted by either the viatical settlement provider or broker or its authorized representative for the purpose of determining the insured's health status. This contact is limited to once every three months following the date the viatical settlement proceeds are released to the viator if the insured has a life expectancy of more than one year, and no more than once per month following such date if the insured has a life expectancy of one year or less.

(11) All medical, financial or personal information solicited or obtained by a viatical settlement company or viatical settlement broker about a viator and an insured, including the viator and insured's identity of family members, a spouse or a significant other, is confidential.

(11) Disclosure to a viator shall include distribution of a brochure developed or authorized by the commissioner describing the process of viatical settlements. The brochure of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners is attached.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS

Selling your life insurance policy:

Understanding viatical settlements

Your state insurance department and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners want you to have the facts before you sell your life insurance policy. This article provides some of that information, but it is only a starting point. Consult your own professional financial advisor, attorney, or accountant to help you decide if this is the most suitable arrangement for you.

What is a viatical settlement?

A viatical settlement is the sale of a life insurance policy to a third party. The owner (viator) of the life insurance policy sells the policy for an immediate cash benefit.

The buyer (the viatical settlement provider) becomes the new owner of the life insurance policy, pays future premiums, and collects the death benefit when the insured dies.

At one time, most viatical settlements were from people with a life-threatening illness. Now, individuals who are not facing a health crisis may sell their life insurance policy to get cash.

Consider your options

If you're selling your policy to get cash to pay expenses, check all of your options. You may find a way to get more cash from your life insurance policy.

1. Ask your insurance agent or company if you have any cash value in your life insurance policy. You may be able to use some of the cash value to meet your immediate needs and keep your policy in force for your beneficiaries. You may also be able to use the cash value as security for a loan from a financial institution.

2. Find out if your life insurance policy has an accelerated death benefit. An accelerated death benefit typically pays some of the policy's death benefit before the insured dies. It may be a way for you to get cash from a policy without selling it to a third party.

Consumer tips

- Comparison shop. Get quotes from several companies to make sure you have a competitive offer.
- Find out the tax implications. Not all proceeds received from the sale of your life insurance policy are tax free.
- It's important to know that any of your creditors could claim your cash settlement.
- Find out if you will lose any public assistance benefits such as food stamps or Medicaid if you get a cash settlement.
- The buyer of your policy can periodically ask you about your health status. The buyer is required to give you a privacy notice outlining who will get this personal information. Be sure to read it.
- Check all application forms for accuracy, especially your medical history. All questions must be answered truthfully and completely.
- Make sure the viatical settlement provider agrees to put your settlement proceeds into an independent escrow account to protect your funds during the transfer.
- Find out if you have the right to change your mind about the settlement AFTER you get the money. If so, how many days do you have to reconsider and return the money?

Questions to Ask

- Do I still need life insurance protection?
- If I sell my policy, how do they decide how much cash I get?
- Is this an employer or other group policy? If so, do I need permission to sell it?
- If I sell my policy, who will be the legal owner?
- Do I need the advice of a tax or estate planning advisor before I decide to sell my policy?
- Who will have specific information about me, my family or my health status?
- After I sell my policy, can it be resold by the buyer?

Always check with your state

Your state insurance department may have a list of viatical settlement providers and brokers that are licensed to do business in the state. Contact them to make sure yours are on the list.

Contact your state insurance or securities departments to learn about the issues and risks of viatical settlements if:

- you're considering selling your life insurance policy;
- you're asked to sell your life insurance policy and your health hasn't changed since you bought the policy;
- you're asked to buy a new life insurance policy and immediately sell it for cash.

FEDERAL TAX LAWS

Two groups of people may receive benefits from a viatical settlement without owing federal income tax:

1. Persons who have been diagnosed with a terminal illness and with a life expectancy of 24 months or less, and
2. Certain chronically ill individuals.

If you qualify for this federal tax-free treatment, you also must use a viatical settlement provider that is licensed in the state where you live, or, in states where licensing is not required, that complies with the standards of the National Association of Insurance Commissioner's Viatical Settlements Model Act.

Viatical Settlement Professionals, Inc. is not acting as a tax advisor. When interpreting tax laws it is best to check with your financial advisor. It is recommended that a tax advisor be consulted on such issues. The undersigned understands that the function of the broker is solely to secure a buyer for the life insurance policy and there are no representations or warranties about the financial status of the buyer, the legal status of the buyer or any subsequent purchaser, or of any tax consequences of the transaction. The undersigned releases and holds harmless the broker in this transaction of any claims resulting from this transaction other than intentional fraud.

I have read the above informational and disclosure statement and enter into a viatical settlement knowingly and voluntarily.
